OUE QUOTA—INJUSTICE IN CREDITS.

We have the official statement of the quota of treops of this county, under the various calls, together with all the statistics necessary to exhibit the exact position of each subdistrict on the official records on the Slatday of January last. The total number subject to draft in this county, according to the envolument, was 4720; and the entire quota of the country, under the two calls for 800,000 and 500,000 men, is 1079. From this are to the deducted the number held in the draft—that is all who paid commutation, furnished substitutes or served in person—and all enlictments of volunteers. The number to be credited as the fruits of the draft is 325; and 137 volunteers are credited on the official records at Washington up to the lat of Foburary—making a total credit of 492, and leaving to be furnished 601 men. We subjuic the table showing how each district stands:

Nearly all these veterans have re-cellisted, and Franklin county has not been credited and Franklin county has not been credited and Franklin county has not been credited with one of them. CHAMBERSBURG, PA., WED

The opining scene was impressive, by not at all cacifing. When Damon withstood the the soldlers, there was none of that lightung power in the eye which redore Perrent so terrible in his indignation. As the soldlers pressed upon him, you trembled for this notice, and the soldlers are seen upon him, you trembled for this notice, so the soldlers, and hurled back the hireling. There was a sir in the andience, a hum of admiration among the women: appearedly Wallack was to be the man of the evening! He was painted more than any actor I over before saw, but the brilliant color saved only to intewify the expression of his eyes, which were magnificent; not so much light and luminous, as lowering and wrathy, fitted rather to terrify than to animate or durran. It was not till the appeal to his betrayed country, after the scene in the Senate, that Davesport manifested his power. His body was neveoless, his face desprairing, his passion profound, pathetic, hopeless for a moment, then quickneed into defiance which stirred the house into the most entho-instit and sympathetic applause. Theneeforward, as the two tracediens were thrown into contrary, after the scene in the body was neveoless, the face desprairing, his passion profound, pathetic, hopeless for a moment, then quickneed into defiance which stirred the house into the most entho-instit and sympathetic applause. Theneeforward, as the two tracediens were thrown into contrary, seemed to dilate into greaters as you watched thim. His voice lacked the rich ring of Wallack, but hid more modulations, and his face wanted the faccinations of Wallack, but his more modulations, and his face wanted the faccinations of Wallack, but his more modulations, and his face wanted the faccinations of Wallack, but him more modulations, and his face wanted the faccinations of Wallack, but his more modulation, and his face wanted the faccinations of Wallack, but he more modulation, and his face wanted the faccinations of Wallack, but he more modulation, and his face wa

THE Spirit is on a rampage. It is—"All furious as a favored usuald Balt'd of its wish."

It exps "the Reprostroaty has; yes, lies!

It exps "the Reprostroaty has; yes, lies!

It exps "the Reprostroaty has; yes, lies!

It exists the allegation of this journed that it "mouras over over year exercise of power to destroy the reballion." It claims "to be loyal to the Constitution," and overdrows with warsh and exhausts the vocabulary of billingsgate by way of vindicating its particisms. Well, perhaps the Spirit is loyal; but it editainly works by contraries in demonstrating it. It has exhaustless denunciation for the government; for all its officers; for all its measures; for the Republic; but it is silent as the grave as to treason and the wicked, wanton was a commenced by traitors. It says that it don't abuse Jeff. Davis because of its generous belief "that abuse neiver yet injured an enemy," from which we infer that it villifies and misrepresents Mr. Lincolo persistently solely because of its affection for him. For people who lithe such friendship; it may be just the sort such 'people like; but our violent cotemporary should be mindful that there are few who can appreciate such a refinement of diplomatic fidelity. If it had given five lines of straight forward, carnest words for the proservation of the government, without its cowardly ifs and buts, it would have done coneching toward establishing its anymathy with the government; but it is simply an insuit to an intelligent people to declive that it is faith ful to the government, the armise, and to its secret cause, when its columns are filled only with the quibbles, complaints, misrepresentations and often utter falsehoods which are but the faint re-cho of the arch traitors themselves is applogiting for their thin digenies in the Indians and Armstrone.

After the Democrate had thrown off their thin digenies in the Indians and Armst traitors themselves in apologizing for their bloody work. The Speriment try again.

AFTER the Democrate had thrown off their thin disguise in the Indians and Armstrong district, and nominated a candidate for Senator, the Indiana Democrate concluded that the Democracy had better "go info and elect a Senator, and admit Mr. Penny to be "Speaker de fiecto" of the Senate How Mr. Penny could, under the circumstances, he Speaker. in he without being Speaker in law, is a legi solution that merits a patent for original profundity.

The same paper calls upoy the Democrats to "contest the election of the polis, and if defeated there, another tribunal can be appealed to to decide upon the legality of the write of Mr. Penny. "What tribunal pray? As the Senate is the sole judge of the outlideation of its own members, we can conceive of no remaining tribunal for the discomfied revolutionis, but to appeal from the ballot-box to a bwn meeting. We think that if anybody is exitled to certiorari the proceedings of the Democracy in the late Senatorial contest, is "Little Mac." How often must be used funeral honors for Copperhead managers? However, considering the little liftleft in him when Woodward got through this, it probably don't matter much her often he is entomated in a small way themselv.

THE House of Representatives Washington last week adopted the following resolution by the decisive vote of 750 62:

THE Spirit, speaking of the proposion to guard the Commonwealth against clims for military damages of men who havesidd and abotted the enemy, insists that tere shall be no oath whatever imposed. It calls upon the Democratic members of the legislature to "defeat the bill itself, reter than have this collows provision in it?" to this Mr. Sharpe and every member of teconunities, both Union and Democrati, respond by requiring a just test of loyist. The legislature don't seem to appreciate the Spirit's anxiety to protect: men when have siven aid, comfort and information to the rebels, and they will probably pass the bill in spice of its command to "defeat." it.

THE consecription bill passed both branches of Congress on Friday last, and has doubtless been approved by the President. Our Washington correspondent gives an intelligent synopsis of the bill. It passed the Senate by 26 to 16—Mr. Buckslew voting against it and Mr. Cowan absent or not voting. In the House it was passed by 71 to 23—the Pennsylvania delegation voting as follows:
