

TERMS: The "INDICATOR" is published every Friday morning, on Main Street, two doors east of B. Crawford's Corner, at Two Dollars per Annum in Advance, or by the Month, Fifty Cents, which may be discharged by the Post Office Order, or by Cash. A subscription of Six Months will be sent for the price of Three Dollars, and of Three Months for One Dollar, and twenty-five cents for each subsequent month. Single copies are sent for the price of ten cents. A liberal discount made to those who advertise by the year. Professional Cards, not exceeding seven lines, are inserted for one year for $5.00—Six months for $3.00.

Business Cards.

W. B. PIERCE & CO. Commission & Forwarding Merchants, Corner of Cary and 13th Streets, RICHMOND, VIRGINIA.

Wm. Miller. Opposite a New and Improved... Wm. Miller, No. 100 North Main Street, Staunton, Va.

Wm. Miller. Opposite a New and Improved... Wm. Miller, No. 100 North Main Street, Staunton, Va.

Wm. Miller. Opposite a New and Improved... Wm. Miller, No. 100 North Main Street, Staunton, Va.

Wm. Miller. Opposite a New and Improved... Wm. Miller, No. 100 North Main Street, Staunton, Va.

Wm. Miller. Opposite a New and Improved... Wm. Miller, No. 100 North Main Street, Staunton, Va.

Wm. Miller. Opposite a New and Improved... Wm. Miller, No. 100 North Main Street, Staunton, Va.

Wm. Miller. Opposite a New and Improved... Wm. Miller, No. 100 North Main Street, Staunton, Va.

Wm. Miller. Opposite a New and Improved... Wm. Miller, No. 100 North Main Street, Staunton, Va.

Wm. Miller. Opposite a New and Improved... Wm. Miller, No. 100 North Main Street, Staunton, Va.

Wm. Miller. Opposite a New and Improved... Wm. Miller, No. 100 North Main Street, Staunton, Va.

Wm. Miller. Opposite a New and Improved... Wm. Miller, No. 100 North Main Street, Staunton, Va.

Wm. Miller. Opposite a New and Improved... Wm. Miller, No. 100 North Main Street, Staunton, Va.

Wm. Miller. Opposite a New and Improved... Wm. Miller, No. 100 North Main Street, Staunton, Va.

Wm. Miller. Opposite a New and Improved... Wm. Miller, No. 100 North Main Street, Staunton, Va.

Wm. Miller. Opposite a New and Improved... Wm. Miller, No. 100 North Main Street, Staunton, Va.

Wm. Miller. Opposite a New and Improved... Wm. Miller, No. 100 North Main Street, Staunton, Va.

Wm. Miller. Opposite a New and Improved... Wm. Miller, No. 100 North Main Street, Staunton, Va.

Wm. Miller. Opposite a New and Improved... Wm. Miller, No. 100 North Main Street, Staunton, Va.

Wm. Miller. Opposite a New and Improved... Wm. Miller, No. 100 North Main Street, Staunton, Va.

Wm. Miller. Opposite a New and Improved... Wm. Miller, No. 100 North Main Street, Staunton, Va.

The Indicator

VOL. XVI. STAUNTON, VIRGINIA, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 14, 1860. NO. 37.

BALTIMORE LOCK HOSPITAL. DR. JOHNSTON. TONIC for the debilitated constitution...

SECRET DISEASES. Gonorrhoea, Gleet, Stricture, Venereal Wounds, Pains in the Limbs, Affections of the Kidneys...

MARRIAGE. Married persons, contemplating Marriage, being aware of Physical Weakness...

ORGANIC WEAKNESSES. This dreadful disease is the most frequent...

CERTAIN DISEASE. When the mind and impure habits of...

JOHNSTON'S INFIBRATING REMEDY. DR. JOHNSTON'S INFIBRATING REMEDY...

JOHNSTON'S INFIBRATING REMEDY. DR. JOHNSTON'S INFIBRATING REMEDY...

JOHNSTON'S INFIBRATING REMEDY. DR. JOHNSTON'S INFIBRATING REMEDY...

JOHNSTON'S INFIBRATING REMEDY. DR. JOHNSTON'S INFIBRATING REMEDY...

JOHNSTON'S INFIBRATING REMEDY. DR. JOHNSTON'S INFIBRATING REMEDY...

JOHNSTON'S INFIBRATING REMEDY. DR. JOHNSTON'S INFIBRATING REMEDY...

JOHNSTON'S INFIBRATING REMEDY. DR. JOHNSTON'S INFIBRATING REMEDY...

JOHNSTON'S INFIBRATING REMEDY. DR. JOHNSTON'S INFIBRATING REMEDY...

JOHNSTON'S INFIBRATING REMEDY. DR. JOHNSTON'S INFIBRATING REMEDY...

JOHNSTON'S INFIBRATING REMEDY. DR. JOHNSTON'S INFIBRATING REMEDY...

JOHNSTON'S INFIBRATING REMEDY. DR. JOHNSTON'S INFIBRATING REMEDY...

JOHNSTON'S INFIBRATING REMEDY. DR. JOHNSTON'S INFIBRATING REMEDY...

JOHNSTON'S INFIBRATING REMEDY. DR. JOHNSTON'S INFIBRATING REMEDY...

JOHNSTON'S INFIBRATING REMEDY. DR. JOHNSTON'S INFIBRATING REMEDY...

JOHNSTON'S INFIBRATING REMEDY. DR. JOHNSTON'S INFIBRATING REMEDY...

JOHNSTON'S INFIBRATING REMEDY. DR. JOHNSTON'S INFIBRATING REMEDY...

JOHNSTON'S INFIBRATING REMEDY. DR. JOHNSTON'S INFIBRATING REMEDY...

JOHNSTON'S INFIBRATING REMEDY. DR. JOHNSTON'S INFIBRATING REMEDY...

JOHNSTON'S INFIBRATING REMEDY. DR. JOHNSTON'S INFIBRATING REMEDY...

A GRAND VIRGINIA DISCOVERY. FOUR months since our excellent...

HAIR RESTORER. The following certificate of your own...

HAIR RESTORER. The following certificate of your own...

HAIR RESTORER. The following certificate of your own...

HAIR RESTORER. The following certificate of your own...

HAIR RESTORER. The following certificate of your own...

HAIR RESTORER. The following certificate of your own...

HAIR RESTORER. The following certificate of your own...

HAIR RESTORER. The following certificate of your own...

HAIR RESTORER. The following certificate of your own...

HAIR RESTORER. The following certificate of your own...

HAIR RESTORER. The following certificate of your own...

HAIR RESTORER. The following certificate of your own...

HAIR RESTORER. The following certificate of your own...

HAIR RESTORER. The following certificate of your own...

HAIR RESTORER. The following certificate of your own...

HAIR RESTORER. The following certificate of your own...

HAIR RESTORER. The following certificate of your own...

HAIR RESTORER. The following certificate of your own...

HAIR RESTORER. The following certificate of your own...

HAIR RESTORER. The following certificate of your own...

HAIR RESTORER. The following certificate of your own...

HAIR RESTORER. The following certificate of your own...

HAIR RESTORER. The following certificate of your own...

Sad Heart. A sad heart is the fearful thing...

Sad Heart. A sad heart is the fearful thing...

Sad Heart. A sad heart is the fearful thing...

Sad Heart. A sad heart is the fearful thing...

Sad Heart. A sad heart is the fearful thing...

Sad Heart. A sad heart is the fearful thing...

Sad Heart. A sad heart is the fearful thing...

Sad Heart. A sad heart is the fearful thing...

Sad Heart. A sad heart is the fearful thing...

Sad Heart. A sad heart is the fearful thing...

Sad Heart. A sad heart is the fearful thing...

Sad Heart. A sad heart is the fearful thing...

Sad Heart. A sad heart is the fearful thing...

Sad Heart. A sad heart is the fearful thing...

Sad Heart. A sad heart is the fearful thing...

Sad Heart. A sad heart is the fearful thing...

Sad Heart. A sad heart is the fearful thing...

Sad Heart. A sad heart is the fearful thing...

Sad Heart. A sad heart is the fearful thing...

Sad Heart. A sad heart is the fearful thing...

Sad Heart. A sad heart is the fearful thing...

Sad Heart. A sad heart is the fearful thing...

Sad Heart. A sad heart is the fearful thing...

Sad Heart. A sad heart is the fearful thing...

A Bride in the Wrong Bed. We have the Christian Examiner...

A Bride in the Wrong Bed. We have the Christian Examiner...

A Bride in the Wrong Bed. We have the Christian Examiner...

A Bride in the Wrong Bed. We have the Christian Examiner...

A Bride in the Wrong Bed. We have the Christian Examiner...

A Bride in the Wrong Bed. We have the Christian Examiner...

A Bride in the Wrong Bed. We have the Christian Examiner...

A Bride in the Wrong Bed. We have the Christian Examiner...

A Bride in the Wrong Bed. We have the Christian Examiner...

A Bride in the Wrong Bed. We have the Christian Examiner...

A Bride in the Wrong Bed. We have the Christian Examiner...

A Bride in the Wrong Bed. We have the Christian Examiner...

A Bride in the Wrong Bed. We have the Christian Examiner...

A Bride in the Wrong Bed. We have the Christian Examiner...

A Bride in the Wrong Bed. We have the Christian Examiner...

A Bride in the Wrong Bed. We have the Christian Examiner...

A Bride in the Wrong Bed. We have the Christian Examiner...

A Bride in the Wrong Bed. We have the Christian Examiner...

A Bride in the Wrong Bed. We have the Christian Examiner...

A Bride in the Wrong Bed. We have the Christian Examiner...

A Bride in the Wrong Bed. We have the Christian Examiner...

A Bride in the Wrong Bed. We have the Christian Examiner...

A Bride in the Wrong Bed. We have the Christian Examiner...

A Bride in the Wrong Bed. We have the Christian Examiner...

Of any reasonable range, and can be made...

Of any reasonable range, and can be made...

Of any reasonable range, and can be made...

Of any reasonable range, and can be made...

Of any reasonable range, and can be made...

Of any reasonable range, and can be made...

Of any reasonable range, and can be made...

Of any reasonable range, and can be made...

Of any reasonable range, and can be made...

Of any reasonable range, and can be made...

Of any reasonable range, and can be made...

Of any reasonable range, and can be made...

Of any reasonable range, and can be made...

Of any reasonable range, and can be made...

Of any reasonable range, and can be made...

Of any reasonable range, and can be made...

Of any reasonable range, and can be made...

Of any reasonable range, and can be made...

Of any reasonable range, and can be made...

Of any reasonable range, and can be made...

Of any reasonable range, and can be made...

Of any reasonable range, and can be made...

Of any reasonable range, and can be made...

Of any reasonable range, and can be made...

Of any reasonable range, and can be made...

Of any reasonable range, and can be made...

Of any reasonable range, and can be made...

Of any reasonable range, and can be made...

Of any reasonable range, and can be made...

Of any reasonable range, and can be made...

Of any reasonable range, and can be made...

Of any reasonable range, and can be made...

Of any reasonable range, and can be made...

Of any reasonable range, and can be made...

Of any reasonable range, and can be made...

Of any reasonable range, and can be made...

Of any reasonable range, and can be made...

Of any reasonable range, and can be made...

Of any reasonable range, and can be made...

Of any reasonable range, and can be made...

Of any reasonable range, and can be made...

Of any reasonable range, and can be made...

Of any reasonable range, and can be made...

Of any reasonable range, and can be made...

Of any reasonable range, and can be made...

Of any reasonable range, and can be made...

Of any reasonable range, and can be made...

Of any reasonable range, and can be made...

B. M. YOST, Editor and Proprietor. NATIONAL DEMOCRATIC NOMINEES. S. A. DOUGLAS, OF ILLINOIS. FOR VICE-PRESIDENT. H. V. JOHNSON, OF GEORGIA.

DEMOCRATIC ELECTORAL TICKET. 1st Dist. - GEORGE BLOW, Norfolk City. 2nd Dist. - J. W. BROWN, Petersburg. 3rd Dist. - J. W. BROWN, Petersburg. 4th Dist. - JAMES GARLAND, Lynchburg. 5th Dist. - JAMES GARLAND, Lynchburg. 6th Dist. - JAMES GARLAND, Lynchburg. 7th Dist. - JAMES GARLAND, Lynchburg. 8th Dist. - JAMES GARLAND, Lynchburg. 9th Dist. - JAMES GARLAND, Lynchburg. 10th Dist. - JAMES GARLAND, Lynchburg. 11th Dist. - JAMES GARLAND, Lynchburg. 12th Dist. - JAMES GARLAND, Lynchburg. 13th Dist. - JAMES GARLAND, Lynchburg. 14th Dist. - JAMES GARLAND, Lynchburg. 15th Dist. - JAMES GARLAND, Lynchburg. 16th Dist. - JAMES GARLAND, Lynchburg.

The expression of the Wesleyan Female Institute will commence on Monday next. We tender our thanks to our Democratic friend of Nelson Co., for the list of subscribers sent us.

Our old friend, Mr. Lewis Keller, will accept our thanks for the lot of fine Douglas Passes sent us.

Joseph A. Thomas has been appointed postmaster at Cypress Island, Alleghany county, Va., vice John J. Stack, resigned.

Several of our merchants have already received a portion of their Fall Goods. See their advertisements as they appear in our paper.

We learn that John Robin McDaniel will resign his office of President of the Virginia and Tennessee Railroad Company on the 15th of the present month.

Com. Ingraham has been ordered to the command of the U. S. steamer Richmond, sitting out at Norfolk for the Mediterranean.

John W. Bear, the celebrated Buckeye Blacksmith, who stumped the country in 1840 for Harrison and Tyler, is now rampant for Abe Lincoln, and is making speeches in Pennsylvania.

The Superintendent of the Harper's Ferry Armory, Alfred M. Harbour, Esq., has resigned his position, which was accepted by the President, to take effect the 1st of October. James E. Stewart, Esq., of Berkeley county, Va., has been appointed in his place.

We published an article from a States Right Democrat. A disposition to comply with a personal request is the reason we assign for not noticing it this week. In our next we shall tear the shirt off a States Right Democrat as well as the S. M. Yost of 1858.

The Western Virginia Conference commenced its session on Wednesday, September 6th, at Point Pleasant, Mason county - the venerable Bishop Early presiding. Between sixty and seventy ministers were in attendance. The signs indicate an increasing interest, and some very important questions will be acted upon.

The Executive Committee of the Lynchburg (Va.) Agricultural Society, have determined to offer a premium of $100 for the "best drill, military company," and have selected a number of gentlemen, thoroughly conversant with military tactics, to decide upon the merits of the various corps, which may choose to enter the lists for the prize.

Our neighbor, the Valley Democrat, appears in a new and handsome dress. We are gratified to witness such evidences of prosperity on the part of a press that is battling manfully and ably for the right. We notice also, that our friend the "Senior" of the "Register" has taken the stump. That's right. "Hang out the banner on the outer wall."

A letter addressed by the Rev. A. H. Boyd, D. D., of Winchester, Va., to the Ministry and Churches in connection with the "United Synod" of the Presbyterian Church, states that the Board of Visitors to the University of Virginia have declined, by a small majority, to accede to the proposition to discontinue the Theological Seminary, under the care and patronage of the Synod, at the University of Virginia. Dr. Boyd is a member of the Synod, and is already subscribed, and says $100,000 will be required to erect the necessary buildings.

The Fairmount Tree, Virginia, whose editor met us in Baltimore with a number of other Virginians, is a room in the Barrum House, near the side of the Convention, and the Convention, supported us in our determination to remain in the Convention, and by his action, committed himself beyond quibble or question to abide the decision of the Convention, says in the last issue of that paper: "He (Douglas) has made a tour through Eastern Virginia and the Valley speaking at Norfolk, Petersburg, Richmond, Staunton, and other places, and has been a great success." A few more "diagnoses," such as followed Judge Douglas's visit to the Valley will give him the State over Bell and Breckinridge both. Not less than five hundred voters have declared for him in Augusta, Shenandoah, and Rockingham, who were partial to Breckinridge before his "tour." The people say that he is true to the Union and the Constitution, and he has been grossly misrepresented, and he has been grossly misrepresented, and he has been grossly misrepresented.

How about that meeting at the Barrum House? Why did you forsake us, after advising that we remain in the Convention at every hazard? Explain. You are not a seceder, we believe.

Richmond Enquirer. The Richmond Enquirer of the 10th contains a most extravagant laudation of the speech of Mr. James Lyons, delivered on the evening of the 8th instant. With a view to ascertaining the direct, positive and unequivocal position of the editors of the Enquirer, gentlemen whom we know to answer in its broadest sense to the terms, we respectfully ask them whether or not they concur in the following propositions of Mr. James Lyons.

First - Whether the election of Abraham Lincoln is a cause, in itself, for a dissolution of the States? Second - Whether they like Mr. Lyons, would refuse to "turn upon their heel" to decide between Lincoln and Douglas? Third - Whether they, like Mr. Lyons, would notify the Charleston Convention that, as Elector, his commission was at their service, for he would never vote for Stephen A. Douglas, if it were not what the contingency might be?

In addition to these questions, we respectfully ask the Enquirer, whether or not, some years ago, the idea was advanced through its editorial columns - that it was a question whether it would be better for Virginia to be the Southern border of a Northern Confederacy, or the Northern border of a Southern Confederacy?

And further, whether the idea was not advanced through its editorial columns, that Henry A. Wise ought to be the candidate of the Democracy for the Presidency, because he could more effectually canvass the Northern States in his own person?

Knowing the editors of the Enquirer, as we do, to be beyond quibble or subterfuge, these questions are respectfully presented to them; with the confident belief that they will receive a frank, candid, intelligent answer.

Senator Mason. About the gentleman whose name heads this article, we care very little to multiply terms. To approach a grave subject in a very few words, we have no hesitancy in recording it as our opinion, deliberately conceived, that he is a MISREPRESENTATIVE of his constituency. In addition to this he has distinctly and positively denied with his own mouth what he uttered with his own mouth - to the effect that the friends of Judge Douglas constituted a "pious fraud" on the body politic. He denied, in response to an inquiry from the writer of this article, that he had ever used such a term. In a representative position to this denial, is placed the certificate of several gentlemen whose integrity dare not be questioned. "Mr. Har-

Tucker's refusal to testify is the strongest presumptive evidence that the charge is unquestionably true. With the editor of this paper there is no question at all as to the fact that Mr. Mason has been guilty of a direct and unquestionable contradiction of himself. He brands himself as a man not to be trusted, and forces the conviction upon the power that elevated him, that he is not a man to be trusted.

Senator Green, of Missouri. We notice from a re-creation in the St. Louis Herald, that the Legislature recently elected in Missouri is hostile to the reelection of the Hon. James S. Green to the Senate. The vote, on joint ballot, will stand, Breckinridge Democrats, 50; Douglas Democrats, 69; Bell Opposition, 42; Lincoln, 13. Mr. Green is therefore undeniably defeated for the Senate. His undeciphered and bitter animosity to Judge Douglas, and the disorganizing and anti-Democratic course he is pursuing, forbid the possibility of a single friend of Judge D. supporting him. The result will be the election of some such man as Judge Napton, Judge Ewing, or C. P. Jackson. We can hardly expect that an out and out friend of Douglas will be elected, but it is very certain that no man who has opposed him with the virulence that James S. Green has, can receive the support of a single one of his friends. But the regular Democracy of Missouri stand firm to their colors. It is a shame to show nerve and backbone, for we are on the eve of a great political revolution, in which professional tricksters and place-hunters must give way to the stern and relentless demands of the people. The rule of politicians is over here in Virginia, and we believe also in Missouri. Our whole heart is with the cause of the people in this contest, and we trust the sequel will show in Missouri that they dare to assert and vindicate their rights.

Increase of Virginia Population. The Richmond Enquirer states that in the last report of the Auditor of Public Accounts is an estimate of the population in the State, which shows an increase of 230,000. The Auditor has recently procured from the Deputy Marshals returns from a considerable number of counties, which show that his estimate approximates quite nearly the result. The actual returns of the counties referred to exceed the estimate in the West, and fall below it in the East. The Enquirer observes that if the present ratio of representation in Congress is preserved, the increased population in the State when taken in connection with the fractional excess at the last apportionment, will give three additional members of Congress.

Removals. By reference to our advertising columns it will be seen that Messrs. Piper & Funkhouser have removed their stock of Goods to the handsome Store Room, newly opened at the Ya. Hotel, formerly occupied by S. R. Hill. All in search of bargains are invited to give them a call, and examine their new stock.

The remainder of the stock of Goods belonging to S. H. Hill has been removed to the room next door to the Indicator Office, at which place the Auction Sales will be held in a few days.

A Merited Tribute. We wish pleasure, at the expense of being charged with "Whiggism" with the Whigs, to transfer to our columns the following beautiful compliment to one of the clearest heads in the nation, from "The Richmond Whig" three years ago, when in charge of this paper, we and our colleagues (your boisterous John B. Baldwin) was one of the first intellects in the nation. We take more pleasure in publishing this substantiation of our own opinion, from the fact the gentleman alluded to is a sweet invulnerable political foe, but an honest one. The Whig, in alluding to Col. Baldwin's recent speech in Richmond, says:

"The President of the Charleston Convention, Col. John B. Baldwin, of Augusta, who, on appearing on the stand, was greeted with the most hearty and enthusiastic applause. And for over two hours and a half did the able and distinguished speaker hold that vast concourse of persons spell-bound by the magic of his brilliant argument and overpowering eloquence. It was emphatically the speech of the canvass, so large on our knowledge extends, and we have heard many on all sides of the question; and we verily believe it will still stand the speech of the canvass after the canvass is over. It was a masterly and extraordinary effort, and places Col. Baldwin in the front rank of the debaters, not only of Virginia, but of the entire Union. It was an effort that would have done honor to any deliberative body on earth. The delivery of such a speech in the Senate of the United States would have created a profound impression there and produced a sensation throughout the country. It was a lofty, noble, magnificent effort - a grand and glorious display of high mental power. His unanswerable logic, his wit, his humor, his eloquence, - all in that vast audience, but was instructed, elevated, delighted and carried away by his matchless reasoning and the irresistible force of his argument. We are sure that no speech has been delivered here for years, which has been so well received, and which produced a more powerful and lasting impression upon a Richmond audience."

Senator Mason. About the gentleman whose name heads this article, we care very little to multiply terms. To approach a grave subject in a very few words, we have no hesitancy in recording it as our opinion, deliberately conceived, that he is a MISREPRESENTATIVE of his constituency. In addition to this he has distinctly and positively denied with his own mouth what he uttered with his own mouth - to the effect that the friends of Judge Douglas constituted a "pious fraud" on the body politic. He denied, in response to an inquiry from the writer of this article, that he had ever used such a term. In a representative position to this denial, is placed the certificate of several gentlemen whose integrity dare not be questioned. "Mr. Har-

Tucker's refusal to testify is the strongest presumptive evidence that the charge is unquestionably true. With the editor of this paper there is no question at all as to the fact that Mr. Mason has been guilty of a direct and unquestionable contradiction of himself. He brands himself as a man not to be trusted, and forces the conviction upon the power that elevated him, that he is not a man to be trusted.

Senator Green, of Missouri. We notice from a re-creation in the St. Louis Herald, that the Legislature recently elected in Missouri is hostile to the reelection of the Hon. James S. Green to the Senate. The vote, on joint ballot, will stand, Breckinridge Democrats, 50; Douglas Democrats, 69; Bell Opposition, 42; Lincoln, 13. Mr. Green is therefore undeniably defeated for the Senate. His undeciphered and bitter animosity to Judge Douglas, and the disorganizing and anti-Democratic course he is pursuing, forbid the possibility of a single friend of Judge D. supporting him. The result will be the election of some such man as Judge Napton, Judge Ewing, or C. P. Jackson. We can hardly expect that an out and out friend of Douglas will be elected, but it is very certain that no man who has opposed him with the virulence that James S. Green has, can receive the support of a single one of his friends. But the regular Democracy of Missouri stand firm to their colors. It is a shame to show nerve and backbone, for we are on the eve of a great political revolution, in which professional tricksters and place-hunters must give way to the stern and relentless demands of the people. The rule of politicians is over here in Virginia, and we believe also in Missouri. Our whole heart is with the cause of the people in this contest, and we trust the sequel will show in Missouri that they dare to assert and vindicate their rights.

Increase of Virginia Population. The Richmond Enquirer states that in the last report of the Auditor of Public Accounts is an estimate of the population in the State, which shows an increase of 230,000. The Auditor has recently procured from the Deputy Marshals returns from a considerable number of counties, which show that his estimate approximates quite nearly the result. The actual returns of the counties referred to exceed the estimate in the West, and fall below it in the East. The Enquirer observes that if the present ratio of representation in Congress is preserved, the increased population in the State when taken in connection with the fractional excess at the last apportionment, will give three additional members of Congress.

Removals. By reference to our advertising columns it will be seen that Messrs. Piper & Funkhouser have removed their stock of Goods to the handsome Store Room, newly opened at the Ya. Hotel, formerly occupied by S. R. Hill. All in search of bargains are invited to give them a call, and examine their new stock.

The remainder of the stock of Goods belonging to S. H. Hill has been removed to the room next door to the Indicator Office, at which place the Auction Sales will be held in a few days.

A Glorious Letter. We present to our readers a letter from a true son of the Emerald Isle, and as a matter of course, a genuine Democrat: Mason, Albemarle Co., Sept. 10, '60.

S. M. Yost - Dear Sir: When I arrived here from a tour through the States, I found that a great many people had been taken in by the "Whig" party. I found them going to vote for Douglas and Johnson. I immediately procured a high school, and spent 40 cents to get it, and on my return, I found the Whigs and Johnson were in the Union, 108 feet from the ground. We had a very large meeting, and when we raised the flag, the cheering from the crowd was tremendous. I immediately afterwards, Mr. Taylor, of Kentucky, made a very able and eloquent speech in behalf of Douglas and Johnson. There were several other gentlemen from Kentucky present at the raising.

After Mr. Taylor's speech, the Bell and Everett Club met, and were entertained with a good speech from B. H. Magruder, Esq. He said Douglas a very high compliment, and said he was his second choice for the Presidency. The Breckinridge party is very much "down in the mouth" here. They raised a pole on the top of a house - the pole is 7 feet high, and the flag would make a good pole for Breckinridge for Mr. Breckinridge. The Douglas and Johnson flag is, from stem to stern, 33 feet long. Regarding that you may not wish us to be raising, With much respect, I remain A course respectfully, J. N.

Douglas in the North-West. The following is an extract from a letter written by a Mobilian traveling the Western and Northern States, one who has witnessed a great deal in and is a good judge of popular elections. We may remark, that when he left home he was undecided as to whether he would support Breckinridge for Douglas, and he was in a position to take an impartial view of the political current in his travels.

August 21, 1860. - I have just completed my visit among Northern relatives and acquaintances, and have been traveling through a great portion of the States of Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York, Connecticut, Massachusetts and New Jersey, and I am quite sure that Douglas will carry every one of them. I never have seen such unbounded enthusiasm to elect a President as there is for Douglas in all these States. He is gaining strength every day, and there is the best kind of feeling existing between the old union and conservative Whigs and the friends of Douglas. There is no doubt in my mind but that Douglas will be elected by the people.

Tell forth that there is a great inquiry for the Mobile Register. Everybody wants to read it. There is universal commendation and praise of the ability in which it is conducted. I think it has done more good for the cause of Democracy and the Union in this canvass than any other paper published in the country, especially in the North.

Political Speaking. Gen. Wm. H. Harman, Dr. S. H. Moffett and J. N. Liggitt, Esq., will address the Democracy at the following places: At New Market, Tuesday, Sept. 18th, 7 o'clock. At Staunton, Wednesday, Sept. 19th, 11 o'clock. At Woodstock, Thursday, Sept. 20th, 10 o'clock. At Staunton, Friday, Sept. 21st, 10 o'clock. At Staunton, Saturday, Sept. 22nd, 10 o'clock. At Staunton, Sunday, Sept. 23rd, 10 o'clock. At Staunton, Monday, Sept. 24th, 10 o'clock. At Staunton, Tuesday, Sept. 25th, 10 o'clock.

Let the people at the different points turn out and hear their orators and subscribe to Democratic principles. - Valley Democrat. Commissioners of Election. The Governor of Virginia has appointed the following Commissioners to superintend the election, on the 6th day of November, for President and Vice-President of the United States. The Commissioners in each county or corporation, are authorized by law to appoint three Commissioners for each place therein, at which a separate poll is to be taken, and one officer to conduct the election at such places: Augusta - Jacob Baylor, H. M. Bell, M. G. Harman. Bath - William H. Terrill, Stephen A. Potter, A. H. McIntire. Highland - Adam Stephenson, Col. G. W. Bell, Col. A. H. Bell. Pendleton - William McCoy, Sr., Gen. James Boggs, Ben. Hiner. Rockbridge - James W. Massie, William H. Bell, James H. Dorman. Rockingham - Wm. Mott Warrington, R. Bowman, Franklin Pence.

The encampment of the Staunton Artillery at Strabing Springs has been a source of no little pleasure not only to the gallant corps of officers and men, but a large number of other citizens of the county. The limited time which we had after arriving home, previous to the hour of issuing the Indicator is the reason why we have not given a more detailed account of the proceedings and doings at Strabing during the week. Sufficient to say that every thing went off in the handsomest style. A large number of ladies and gentlemen were in attendance on the occasion of the tournament; and the gayest audience we have ever seen congregated to witness our friend John S. Harman in a strong array of facts and arguments in defence of Douglas and Johnson. The Club meets again to-morrow night, when other speakers will be present.

Douglas Club. The Democracy of Staunton and vicinity were entertained on last Saturday, at the Court-house, by an animated and practical speech from Capt. J. A. Harman. This was the first effort of the Captain at a regular speech since the Baltimore Convention, and we must say that his friends, and friends of the genuine Democracy, were delighted. Col. Geo. Baylor followed Capt. Harman in a strong array of facts and arguments in defence of Douglas and Johnson. The Club meets again to-morrow night, when other speakers will be present.

For the Indicator. Mr. Editor - For as much as a prophet has no honor in his own country, and that this is true only as regards legislation, I think all those who are not opposed with the faculty of prophecy, should send their editorial organs of view, before making public denunciations, to the Editor of the Indicator. The following quotations are taken from a communication, published in the "Indicator" of 24th inst. over the signature of "A Slaveholder," and being from the neighborhood of Mr. Sidney. The intent of the author of said communication, was doubtless to disparage Roanoke College, and to dissuade the "Sons of Augusta" from patronizing an institution, which has notoriously acquired a reputation in Virginia. Now, Mr. Editor, I too, am in favor of encouraging home institutions, provided the advantages or inducements offered by them, are equal to those "far off," and to which we may have easy access; but when this is not the case, it is certainly a privilege, as well as a duty of parents and young men to look to their own interests, and act otherwise. The course of study pursued at Roanoke College, in the thoroughness, will compare favorably with any other College in the State. Its faculty are gentlemen of known ability, who are eminently qualified to fill their respective departments. Its location, to say nothing of its extensive library and scientific apparatus, its commodious halls, handsome buildings and beautiful campus, when compared with that of Nossy Creek Academy, would present a contrast upon which it is needless to comment. But this is not all: the terms - which should be no small consideration to all desirous of a liberal education, and especially to those who have to do with their hard earnings - are less than those of many Colleges by fifty dollars. Why is it because the boarding and lodging accommodations are so good, and the comforts of home? At Nossy Creek, are superior to those at Roanoke. I think not. There is a department, preparatory to the Collegiate course, connected with the College. Not infrequently do we hear objections to this feature; but on enquiry into the cause of complaint, we find that "Roanoke College has been tripping the 'perks' of some of the schools of the country, which have exorbitant charges, and but few advantages. I submit the foregoing, Mr. Editor, in conformity to facts and not as a "puff." But in conclusion let me say "A Student," if he ever beheld "the beautiful and rich valley of the Roanoke," with its surrounding scenery. If not, I would advise him to visit it, and if the "bricks edifice" and "wild ducks" of Nossy Creek, do not sink into utter insignificance when compared with it, he shall not again hear a call for FARM PLAY.

Stephens' First Speech. A correspondent of the Augusta Constitutionalist writes the following account of Hon. A. H. Stephens' first speech of the campaign, at Crawfordville, Taliaferro county, on the 27th inst. The court had adjourned, as it was expected that Judge Linton Stephens would address the people on the political issues of the day. But as the Judge was indisposed, the Hon. A. H. Stephens supplied his place, and for more than one hour, enlivened the audience by his matchless eloquence, in defence of the blessings we now enjoy under the best government on earth - and showing the evils which he seriously apprehended from secessionism and the seceding tendency of the Secession at Charleston. He said that Judge Douglas was not his first choice, yet, he believed that Douglas had shown more moral courage in defending his convictions of right, against prejudice and fanaticism at home, than any seceder now living, North or South, and the war waged against him by office holders and sycophants, from envy and malice, reminded him of wolves bounding to death a lonely Buffalo, and knowing that Stephen A. Douglas has stood side by side, and voted with the South in her portals and trials, he believed him true, honorable, and the most powerful friend the South ever had. He would not stand and silently see a man denounced, without attempting to defend him. He would feel as guilty as the man of old, who held the Martyr's cloth, while the noblest man he had ever known, for one, though he should stand alone, he would raise his voice to cheer on the good men of the North who were striving to do their duty and save the Union. But if secessionism should prevail - and all should be lost - if the Union, and peace, and all should go down together - yet he would raise aloft with all his strength the banner on which is inscribed "non-intervention, and a firm adherence to our plighted faith." He closed with a most eloquent appeal to the conservative feelings of his audience to stand by the Union and the Constitution of our fathers. From the last information I could get, there are not ten Breckinridge men in the county, and it is stated that the votes are very nearly equally divided between Bell and Douglas.

A Breckinridge Elector Declines. In the Enquirer, of Saturday, we find the following from Mr. Lacy, of New Kent, which speaks for itself: NEW KENT COUNTY, Aug. 24, 1860. Gentlemen - Do me the favor to state in your paper that I respectfully decline the position of Elector for this county, on the Breckinridge and Lane ticket, which has been assigned me by the Richmond State Convention, and also by the Charlottesville Convention. I shall support the national nominees of the Democratic party - to wit: Douglas and Johnson. Very respectfully, JOHN S. LACY.

For the Indicator. Mr. Editor - For as much as a prophet has no honor in his own country, and that this is true only as regards legislation, I think all those who are not opposed with the faculty of prophecy, should send their editorial organs of view, before making public denunciations, to the Editor of the Indicator. The following quotations are taken from a communication, published in the "Indicator" of 24th inst. over the signature of "A Slaveholder," and being from the neighborhood of Mr. Sidney. The intent of the author of said communication, was doubtless to disparage Roanoke College, and to dissuade the "Sons of Augusta" from patronizing an institution, which has notoriously acquired a reputation in Virginia. Now, Mr. Editor, I too, am in favor of encouraging home institutions, provided the advantages or inducements offered by them, are equal to those "far off," and to which we may have easy access; but when this is not the case, it is certainly a privilege, as well as a duty of parents and young men to look to their own interests, and act otherwise. The course of study pursued at Roanoke College, in the thoroughness, will compare favorably with any other College in the State. Its faculty are gentlemen of known ability, who are eminently qualified to fill their respective departments. Its location, to say nothing of its extensive library and scientific apparatus, its commodious halls, handsome buildings and beautiful campus, when compared with that of Nossy Creek Academy, would present a contrast upon which it is needless to comment. But this is not all: the terms - which should be no small consideration to all desirous of a liberal education, and especially to those who have to do with their hard earnings - are less than those of many Colleges by fifty dollars. Why is it because the boarding and lodging accommodations are so good, and the comforts of home? At Nossy Creek, are superior to those at Roanoke. I think not. There is a department, preparatory to the Collegiate course, connected with the College. Not infrequently do we hear objections to this feature; but on enquiry into the cause of complaint, we find that "Roanoke College has been tripping the 'perks' of some of the schools of the country, which have exorbitant charges, and but few advantages. I submit the foregoing, Mr. Editor, in conformity to facts and not as a "puff." But in conclusion let me say "A Student," if he ever beheld "the beautiful and rich valley of the Roanoke," with its surrounding scenery. If not, I would advise him to visit it, and if the "bricks edifice" and "wild ducks" of Nossy Creek, do not sink into utter insignificance when compared with it, he shall not again hear a call for FARM PLAY.

Stephens' First Speech. A correspondent of the Augusta Constitutionalist writes the following account of Hon. A. H. Stephens' first speech of the campaign, at Crawfordville, Taliaferro county, on the 27th inst. The court had adjourned, as it was expected that Judge Linton Stephens would address the people on the political issues of the day. But as the Judge was indisposed, the Hon. A. H. Stephens supplied his place, and for more than one hour, enlivened the audience by his matchless eloquence, in defence of the blessings we now enjoy under the best government on earth - and showing the evils which he seriously apprehended from secessionism and the seceding tendency of the Secession at Charleston. He said that Judge Douglas was not his first choice, yet, he believed that Douglas had shown more moral courage in defending his convictions of right, against prejudice and fanaticism at home, than any seceder now living, North or South, and the war waged against him by office holders and sycophants, from envy and malice, reminded him of wolves bounding to death a lonely Buffalo, and knowing that Stephen A. Douglas has stood side by side, and voted with the South in her portals and trials, he believed him true, honorable, and the most powerful friend the South ever had. He would not stand and silently see a man denounced, without attempting to defend him. He would feel as guilty as the man of old, who held the Martyr's cloth, while the noblest man he had ever known, for one, though he should stand alone, he would raise his voice to cheer on the good men of the North who were striving to do their duty and save the Union. But if secessionism should prevail - and all should be lost - if the Union, and peace, and all should go down together - yet he would raise aloft with all his strength the banner on which is inscribed "non-intervention, and a firm adherence to our plighted faith." He closed with a most eloquent appeal to the conservative feelings of his audience to stand by the Union and the Constitution of our fathers. From the last information I could get, there are not ten Breckinridge men in the county, and it is stated that the votes are very nearly equally divided between Bell and Douglas.

A Breckinridge Elector Declines. In the Enquirer, of Saturday, we find the following from Mr. Lacy, of New Kent, which speaks for itself: NEW KENT COUNTY, Aug. 24, 1860. Gentlemen - Do me the favor to state in your paper that I respectfully decline the position of Elector for this county, on the Breckinridge and Lane ticket, which has been assigned me by the Richmond State Convention, and also by the Charlottesville Convention. I shall support the national nominees of the Democratic party - to wit: Douglas and Johnson. Very respectfully, JOHN S. LACY.

For the Indicator. Mr. Editor - For as much as a prophet has no honor in his own country, and that this is true only as regards legislation, I think all those who are not opposed with the faculty of prophecy, should send their editorial organs of view, before making public denunciations, to the Editor of the Indicator. The following quotations are taken from a communication, published in the "Indicator" of 24th inst. over the signature of "A Slaveholder," and being from the neighborhood of Mr. Sidney. The intent of the author of said communication, was doubtless to disparage Roanoke College, and to dissuade the "Sons of Augusta" from patronizing an institution, which has notoriously acquired a reputation in Virginia. Now, Mr. Editor, I too, am in favor of encouraging home institutions, provided the advantages or inducements offered by them, are equal to those "far off," and to which we may have easy access; but when this is not the case, it is certainly a privilege, as well as a duty of parents and young men to look to their own interests, and act otherwise. The course of study pursued at Roanoke College, in the thoroughness, will compare favorably with any other College in the State. Its faculty are gentlemen of known ability, who are eminently qualified to fill their respective departments. Its location, to say nothing of its extensive library and scientific apparatus, its commodious halls, handsome buildings and beautiful campus, when compared with that of Nossy Creek Academy, would present a contrast upon which it is needless to comment. But this is not all: the terms - which should be no small consideration to all desirous of a liberal education, and especially to those who have to do with their hard earnings - are less than those of many Colleges by fifty dollars. Why is it because the boarding and lodging accommodations are so good, and the comforts of home? At Nossy Creek, are superior to those at Roanoke. I think not. There is a department, preparatory to the Collegiate course, connected with the College. Not infrequently do we hear objections to this feature; but on enquiry into the cause of complaint, we find that "Roanoke College has been tripping the 'perks' of some of the schools of the country, which have exorbitant charges, and but few advantages. I submit the foregoing, Mr. Editor, in conformity to facts and not as a "puff." But in conclusion let me say "A Student," if he ever beheld "the beautiful and rich valley of the Roanoke," with its surrounding scenery. If not, I would advise him to visit it, and if the "bricks edifice" and "wild ducks" of Nossy Creek, do not sink into utter insignificance when compared with it, he shall not again hear a call for FARM PLAY.

Stephens' First Speech. A correspondent of the Augusta Constitutionalist writes the following account of Hon. A. H. Stephens' first speech of the campaign, at Crawfordville, Taliaferro county, on the 27th inst. The court had adjourned, as it was expected that Judge Linton Stephens would address the people on the political issues of the day. But as the Judge was indisposed, the Hon. A. H. Stephens supplied his place, and for more than one hour, enlivened the audience by his matchless eloquence, in defence of the blessings we now enjoy under the best government on earth - and showing the evils which he seriously apprehended from secessionism and the seceding tendency of the Secession at Charleston. He said that Judge Douglas was not his first choice, yet, he believed that Douglas had shown more moral courage in defending his convictions of right, against prejudice and fanaticism at home, than any seceder now living, North or South, and the war waged against him by office holders and sycophants, from envy and malice, reminded him of wolves bounding to death a lonely Buffalo, and knowing that Stephen A. Douglas has stood side by side, and voted with the South in her portals and trials, he believed him true, honorable, and the most powerful friend the South ever had. He would not stand and silently see a man denounced, without attempting to defend him. He would feel as guilty as the man of old, who held the Martyr's cloth, while the noblest man he had ever known, for one, though he should stand alone, he would raise his voice to cheer on the good men of the North who were striving to do their duty and save the Union. But if secessionism should prevail - and all should be lost - if the Union, and peace, and all should go down together - yet he would raise aloft with all his strength the banner on which is inscribed "non-intervention, and a firm adherence to our plighted faith." He closed with a most eloquent appeal to the conservative feelings of his audience to stand by the Union and the Constitution of our fathers. From the last information I could get, there are not ten Breckinridge men in the county, and it is stated that the votes are very nearly equally divided between Bell and Douglas.

A Breckinridge Elector Declines. In the Enquirer, of Saturday, we find the following from Mr. Lacy, of New Kent, which speaks for itself: NEW KENT COUNTY, Aug. 24, 1860. Gentlemen - Do me the favor to state in your paper that I respectfully decline the position of Elector for this county, on the Breckinridge and Lane ticket, which has been assigned me by the Richmond State Convention, and also by the Charlottesville Convention. I shall support the national nominees of the Democratic party - to wit: Douglas and Johnson. Very respectfully, JOHN S. LACY.

For the Indicator. Mr. Editor - For as much as a prophet has no honor in his own country, and that this is true only as regards legislation, I think all those who are not opposed with the faculty of prophecy, should send their editorial organs of view, before making public denunciations, to the Editor of the Indicator. The following quotations are taken from a communication, published in the "Indicator" of 24th inst. over the signature of "A Slaveholder," and being from the neighborhood of Mr. Sidney. The intent of the author of said communication, was doubtless to disparage Roanoke College, and to dissuade the "Sons of Augusta" from patronizing an institution, which has notoriously acquired a reputation in Virginia. Now, Mr. Editor, I too, am in favor of encouraging home institutions, provided the advantages or inducements offered by them, are equal to those "far off," and to which we may have easy access; but when this is not the case, it is certainly a privilege, as well as a duty of parents and young men to look to their own interests, and act otherwise. The course of study pursued at Roanoke College, in the thoroughness, will compare favorably with any other College in the State. Its faculty are gentlemen of known ability, who are eminently qualified to fill their respective departments. Its location, to say nothing of its extensive library and scientific apparatus, its commodious halls, handsome buildings and beautiful campus, when compared with that of Nossy Creek Academy, would present a contrast upon which it is needless to comment. But this is not all: the terms - which should be no small consideration to all desirous of a liberal education, and especially to those who have to do with their hard earnings - are less than those of many Colleges by fifty dollars. Why is it because the boarding and lodging accommodations are so good, and the comforts of home? At Nossy Creek, are superior to those at Roanoke. I think not. There is a department, preparatory to the Collegiate course, connected with the College. Not infrequently do we hear objections to this feature; but on enquiry into the cause of complaint, we find that "Roanoke College has been tripping the 'perks' of some of the schools of the country, which have exorbitant charges, and but few advantages. I submit the foregoing, Mr. Editor, in conformity to facts and not as a "puff." But in conclusion let me say "A Student," if he ever beheld "the beautiful and rich valley of the Roanoke," with its surrounding scenery. If not, I would advise him to visit it, and if the "bricks edifice" and "wild ducks" of Nossy Creek, do not sink into utter insignificance when compared with it, he shall not again hear a call for FARM PLAY.

Stephens' First Speech. A correspondent of the Augusta Constitutionalist writes the following account of Hon. A. H. Stephens' first speech of the campaign, at Crawfordville, Taliaferro county, on the 27th inst. The court had adjourned, as it was expected that Judge Linton Stephens would address the people on the political issues of the day. But as the Judge was indisposed, the Hon. A. H. Stephens supplied his place, and for more than one hour, enlivened the audience by his matchless eloquence, in defence of the blessings we now enjoy under the best government on earth - and showing the evils which he seriously apprehended from secessionism and the seceding tendency of the Secession at Charleston. He said that Judge Douglas was not his first choice, yet, he believed that Douglas had shown more moral courage in defending his convictions of right, against prejudice and fanaticism at home, than any seceder now living, North or South, and the war waged against him by office holders and sycophants, from envy and malice, reminded him of wolves bounding to death a lonely Buffalo, and knowing that Stephen A. Douglas has stood side by side, and voted with the South in her portals and trials, he believed him true, honorable, and the most powerful friend the South ever had. He would not stand and silently see a man denounced, without attempting to defend him. He would feel as guilty as the man of old, who held the Martyr's cloth, while the noblest man he had ever known, for one, though he should stand alone, he would raise his voice to cheer on the good men of the North who were striving to do their duty and save the Union. But if secessionism should prevail - and all should be lost - if the Union, and peace, and all should go down together - yet he would raise aloft with all his strength the banner on which is inscribed "non-intervention, and a firm adherence to our plighted faith." He closed with a most eloquent appeal to the conservative feelings of his audience to stand by the Union and the Constitution of our fathers. From the last information I could get, there are not ten Breckinridge men in the county, and it is stated that the votes are very nearly equally divided between Bell and Douglas.

A Breckinridge Elector Declines. In the Enquirer, of Saturday, we find the following from Mr. Lacy, of New Kent, which speaks for itself: NEW KENT COUNTY, Aug. 24, 1860. Gentlemen - Do me the favor to state in your paper that I respectfully decline the position of Elector for this county, on the Breckinridge and Lane ticket, which has been assigned me by the Richmond State Convention, and also by the Charlottesville Convention. I shall support the national nominees of the Democratic party - to wit: Douglas and Johnson. Very respectfully, JOHN S. LACY.

For the Indicator. Mr. Editor - For as much as a prophet has no honor in his own country, and that this is true only as regards legislation, I think all those who are not opposed with the faculty of prophecy, should send their editorial organs of view, before making public denunciations, to the Editor of the Indicator. The following quotations are taken from a communication, published in the "Indicator" of 24th inst. over the signature of "A Slaveholder," and being from the neighborhood of Mr. Sidney. The intent of the author of said communication, was doubtless to disparage Roanoke College, and to dissuade the "Sons of Augusta" from patronizing an institution, which has notoriously acquired a reputation in Virginia. Now, Mr. Editor, I too, am in favor of encouraging home institutions, provided the advantages or inducements offered by them, are equal to those "far off," and to which we may have easy access; but when this is not the case, it is certainly a privilege, as well as a duty of parents and young men to look to their own interests, and act otherwise. The course of study pursued at Roanoke College, in the thoroughness, will compare favorably with any other College in the State. Its faculty are gentlemen of known ability, who are eminently qualified to fill their respective departments. Its location, to say nothing of its extensive library and scientific apparatus, its commodious halls, handsome buildings and beautiful campus, when compared with that of Nossy Creek Academy, would present a contrast upon which it is needless to comment. But this is not all: the terms - which should be no small consideration to all desirous of a liberal education, and especially to those who have to do with their hard earnings - are less than those of many Colleges by fifty dollars. Why is it because the boarding and lodging accommodations are so good, and the comforts of home? At Nossy Creek, are superior to those at Roanoke. I think not. There is a department, preparatory to the Collegiate course, connected with the College. Not infrequently do we hear objections to this feature; but on enquiry into the cause of complaint, we find that "Roanoke College has been tripping the 'perks' of

MISCELLANEOUS
CONSOLIDATED LOTTERIES OF GA.
Capital Prize - $100,000

MISCELLANEOUS
THE STANTON
GOLD MINERS
GREAT DISPLAY AT WHITES' OLD STAND

MISCELLANEOUS
RICHMOND ADVERTISEMENTS
WHEELER & WILSON'S SEWING MACHINES

MISCELLANEOUS
MRS. WINGLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP

MISCELLANEOUS
WILLIAM KNABE & CO.
PIANO-FORTE

MISCELLANEOUS
MEDICAL
DR. J. H. HARRISON

MISCELLANEOUS
THE HAVANA PLAN LOTTERY
Capital Prize $70,000

MISCELLANEOUS
Ladies' and Children's Shoes

MISCELLANEOUS
Not Doin' Blowin' Yet
GABRIEL HIRSH'S HORN!

MISCELLANEOUS
STRIKING SPRINGS
AUGUSTA COUNTY, VA.

MISCELLANEOUS
To the Farmers of Augusta
LIVINGSTON COUNTY FLOW

MISCELLANEOUS
MEDICAL
A Private Medical Treatise

MISCELLANEOUS
CIRCULARS
Containing full explanation of our Rules

MISCELLANEOUS
Cheap Groceries
A. M. BRUCE

MISCELLANEOUS
Dissolution
The Partnership between...

MISCELLANEOUS
Photograph taken large as life

MISCELLANEOUS
MAGNUS' CEASE
WOULD respectfully call attention...

MISCELLANEOUS
MEDICAL
LINDEN'S IMPROVED BLOOD SEARCHER

MISCELLANEOUS
NEW SHOE STORE
I TAKE this opportunity of informing...

MISCELLANEOUS
Wholesale Druggists
FISHER & SHEPHERD

MISCELLANEOUS
Livery & Sale Stable
We have leased for a term of years...

MISCELLANEOUS
CARRIAGE MANUFACTORY
At Spring Hill, Augusta County, Va.

MISCELLANEOUS
CARRIAGE MANUFACTORY
At Spring Hill, Augusta County, Va.

MISCELLANEOUS
MEDICAL
HOWARD ASSOCIATION

MISCELLANEOUS
Auction Sales
AT S. H. HILD'S Dry Goods Store

MISCELLANEOUS
Beck's Hotel
C. H. ALLEY

MISCELLANEOUS
New Hat Store
FRANK BISHOP

MISCELLANEOUS
Livery & Sale Stable
We have leased for a term of years...

MISCELLANEOUS
CARRIAGE MANUFACTORY
At Spring Hill, Augusta County, Va.

MISCELLANEOUS
MEDICAL
HOWARD ASSOCIATION

MISCELLANEOUS
Auction Sales
AT S. H. HILD'S Dry Goods Store

MISCELLANEOUS
Beck's Hotel
C. H. ALLEY

MISCELLANEOUS
New Hat Store
FRANK BISHOP

MISCELLANEOUS
Livery & Sale Stable
We have leased for a term of years...

MISCELLANEOUS
CARRIAGE MANUFACTORY
At Spring Hill, Augusta County, Va.

MISCELLANEOUS
MEDICAL
HOWARD ASSOCIATION

MISCELLANEOUS
Auction Sales
AT S. H. HILD'S Dry Goods Store

MISCELLANEOUS
Beck's Hotel
C. H. ALLEY

MISCELLANEOUS
New Hat Store
FRANK BISHOP

MISCELLANEOUS
Livery & Sale Stable
We have leased for a term of years...

MISCELLANEOUS
CARRIAGE MANUFACTORY
At Spring Hill, Augusta County, Va.

MISCELLANEOUS
MEDICAL
HOWARD ASSOCIATION

MISCELLANEOUS
Auction Sales
AT S. H. HILD'S Dry Goods Store

MISCELLANEOUS
Beck's Hotel
C. H. ALLEY

MISCELLANEOUS
New Hat Store
FRANK BISHOP

MISCELLANEOUS
Livery & Sale Stable
We have leased for a term of years...

MISCELLANEOUS
CARRIAGE MANUFACTORY
At Spring Hill, Augusta County, Va.

MISCELLANEOUS
MEDICAL
HOWARD ASSOCIATION

MISCELLANEOUS
Auction Sales
AT S. H. HILD'S Dry Goods Store

MISCELLANEOUS
Beck's Hotel
C. H. ALLEY

MISCELLANEOUS
New Hat Store
FRANK BISHOP

MISCELLANEOUS
Livery & Sale Stable
We have leased for a term of years...

MISCELLANEOUS
CARRIAGE MANUFACTORY
At Spring Hill, Augusta County, Va.

MISCELLANEOUS
MEDICAL
HOWARD ASSOCIATION

MISCELLANEOUS
Auction Sales
AT S. H. HILD'S Dry Goods Store

MISCELLANEOUS
Beck's Hotel
C. H. ALLEY

MISCELLANEOUS
New Hat Store
FRANK BISHOP

MISCELLANEOUS
Livery & Sale Stable
We have leased for a term of years...

MISCELLANEOUS
CARRIAGE MANUFACTORY
At Spring Hill, Augusta County, Va.

MISCELLANEOUS
MEDICAL
HOWARD ASSOCIATION

MISCELLANEOUS
Auction Sales
AT S. H. HILD'S Dry Goods Store

MISCELLANEOUS
Beck's Hotel
C. H. ALLEY

MISCELLANEOUS
New Hat Store
FRANK BISHOP

MISCELLANEOUS
Livery & Sale Stable
We have leased for a term of years...

MISCELLANEOUS
CARRIAGE MANUFACTORY
At Spring Hill, Augusta County, Va.

MISCELLANEOUS
MEDICAL
HOWARD ASSOCIATION

MISCELLANEOUS
Auction Sales
AT S. H. HILD'S Dry Goods Store

MISCELLANEOUS
Beck's Hotel
C. H. ALLEY

MISCELLANEOUS
New Hat Store
FRANK BISHOP

MISCELLANEOUS
Livery & Sale Stable
We have leased for a term of years...

MISCELLANEOUS
CARRIAGE MANUFACTORY
At Spring Hill, Augusta County, Va.

MISCELLANEOUS
MEDICAL
HOWARD ASSOCIATION