He analysed the doctrine of securion, as interpreted at the North, and showed that the exercise of the right had been twice assessed by Man-senhunetts. The first time during the war of 1812, and she essend time on the admission of Texase into the Union. He paid a glowing tribut: to the true mean of the North who had nested themselves in endeavoring to pressure foot the Seath a rederen of those grievaneous of which the inter complisions if he made a touching reference to the Seastors with whom he had long been associated on terms of friendahip, whom he characterized as 'finen of spirit as generous, and of patriotism as high-hastred as wer illustrated or adorsal the American Seasto," and Seally closed friends, farswell."

In the House Mr. Carter remorated head

its Sanatorial career by saying: "Good friends, farawail"
In the House Mr. Carter reported back a bill authorizing the construction of a lateral brunch of the Baltimore and Ohio Reilroad through the District of Columbia. Mr. McClerand offered a resolution requesting the President to communicate what espe had been taken with regard to the seizure of nearly a million of dollars in the Branch mint at New Orleans, but the resolution was not adopted. The remainder of the session was taken up by debates on the Definiency bill, and on the bill appropriating money for the purchase of Mr. We doell's printing establishment at Washington for government purposes.

Turnay, Feb. 5.—In the Senate to—Wendell's printing establishment at Washington for government purposes.

TURDATA, Feb. 5.—In the Senste today after the presentation of petition in favored on the sense of the Compromise, Mr. Pearse reported the Loan bill and accompanied it with a few remarks, explaining that the amount was necessary for the ordinary purposes of the Government and was not designed to be used for the ocsacion to state his opposition to the policy of correton. Mr. Johnson, of Tennessee, then addressed the Sensie in a speech which was chiefly a refittenation of his former one on the 19th of January. A mr seage was received from the Presid-at calling attention to the recommendation of Kentucky for a National Convention, and the Senste adjourned. In the Homes, after the usual routine of buildens, Mr. Taylor, of Lonisians, communicated the ordinance of secession passed by his State and with all his colleagues, except Mr. Bouligny, withdrew. The latter said the secession ordinance had not been communicated to him, and that he would be governed by the instructions of his constituents. He avoved himself for the Union. After the consideration of the deficiency bill, Mr. Hughes, c: Maryland, made a speech, in which he impressed upon the North the secessity of compromise. The loan bill was passed with an amendment.

WENNESDAY, Feb. 6.—In the Senste a large number of petitions were present—promise. The loan bill was passed with an amerdment.

WENNESDAT, Feb. 6 —In the Senate a large number of petitions were presented, praying the adoption of the Critenden compromise propositions. Mr. Johnson, of Tennesses, finished his speek strongly in favor of preserving the Union, and said that his State would never leave it.

In the House, the resolutions of the Kentucky Legislature, recommending the convening of a National Convention, were presented. The Loan bill was taken up and the Senate's amandment stricks out and a Committee of Conference asked.—
Mr. Colling presented a substitute for his bill regulating post routes. The provisions of the bill give the Postmaster General power to suspend the transmission of the mails in any territory of the United States where its delivery has been interfered with, or where an insurrection or rebellion is thought of the sense.

Thursday, Feb. 7.—In the Senate,

THURADAY, Feb. 7.—In the Senate, Mr. Wigiall, of Texas, replied with great bitterness to the speech of Mr. Johnson, of Tennesse, and charged that he was an ally of the Black Republicans. In the course of his ramarks, he intimated that Mr. J. had been guilty of falsehood, which eliciting applease in the gallaries, they were cleared

In the House, Mr. Vallandigham, of Ohio, offered propositions for changing the mode of elecking a President of the United States, after which, Mr. Davie, of Maryland, made a speech upon the Own-mittee's report, in which he argued that the South had unjust eases of complaint; that the Korth had been mirepresented; that the Government had become democratized, and it was uscessary that the law should be unforced and essentiang States accreed. He did not think the North would accept the Crittendes propositions, and it was uscess to prese them. Mr. Kuulsel, of Haryland, desied that Mr. Davis represented the members of Maryland, assisted the sentences of Maryland, assisted that the was coly he representative of the "Fug Unjies." Mr. Sengewick, of New York, followed, and the House adjourned.

THRILLING GHOST STORY.

THE CHILD'S GROST.

The New York Presbyterian relates this

We were returning from our spring meeting of Presbytery—one genieman and two young ladica—in a 'rookaway,' and the road none of the best. Night, cold and damp, overtook meight or ten miles from home, but only a short distance from Judgs Blank's, who, after we had arrived at his hoase, narrated the following onique tale. Said the Judge as follows:

'Years ago we had in our house a sweet little child, about four years of ace, and the object, of course, of a tender affection. But stokness leid its hand upon it. Remedies, promply resorted to, all proved in vain. Day after day the rose laded from the check, and the fire in the eyes burned low, and at length death closed those eyes and scaled those lips forever; and we learned by experience how intense darkness follows the quenching of one of those little lights of life.

'The time rulling sadly on, brought us at length to the hour appointed for committing our tressure to the ordinary custody of the grave. The friends assembled, the customary services were held, the farewell talen, and the little from securely abut betiesth the well-screwed coffin lid, and in due form the grave received list trust. We looked on and save the earth thrown io, the monad raised above, and the plate of sod uselly adjusted into a great sheltering roof, and then wended our way back to our desolate home. Evening same on and wore away. My wrife had gone into an adjoining room to give some directions to a servant, and I, unfitted by the recene of the day for aught else, had just laid my head on my p llow in our room upon the first floor of the brase, when I heard a shrisk, and in a moment more my wife came flying into the room, and springing upon the bed helsied me exclaimed I "Reising my bed, my blood from with the order the server compared the feelings and bed as when we gave it the fast, but will do sone the barren we had bed withest entire a shrisky and in a moment more my wife compelled to be play the man, I should have la-pad from the wisedward and have a shring the contents and

The Storms.—The violent storm that prevailed here on Thursday appears to have extended over several hundred miles of territory. North and South. In New York the storm was very severe; in Philadelphia it smeamed to a harriesse, and is Baltimore it was still more farres, narroding some thirty beause and doing somelerable drange to properly. In this place the wind blew at a farriese rabs and the weather during the gale endelsay changed to the coldest we have had this winter. We have heard of het two instances in which sections change was done to properly by the wind. The galde-end of a brick stable, on the Mill property of C W. Syster was blown deven, and the galde-end of the residence of Wm. Walloos, on Second ottreet, was also demoltated by the farry of the wind. A RICH ITEM — Here is a Harrisburg item which is a little too rich to be last. Our friends up that way frequently have then for publication, but we are compelled to say that we are unable to match anything of the sort.

A SLEIDHING INCIDENT.—A few nights ago while a friend of our was enjoying a sleigh rich "by the sweet silver light of the moon," on one of the highways leading from this oity, he discovered, when about fire miles out, a fine sleighing equipage, seemingly tenanties, standing in the middle of the road. On nearing the object he found it well provided with buffail robes and all the elesteran nessenary for a courfortable rich. No appearance of life found it well provided with buffail robes on all the elesteran nessenary for a courfortable rich. No appearance of life found to be considered with the side of the road to side, when from beneath the cover of buffaile robes on appear a gouldenas with hat gone, hair rampled, and clothing in general disorder. Our friend applied the whip and depasted, leaving the genulenas to resure to his confortable position uncolested. Morat.—It is extremely bed policy, when out sleigh riding, to stop in the middle of the road to sajoy confidential coverantions, even under the shelter of confortable buffalo robes!

Ex.Pansider Triers is described as bearing his greet age with remarkable grace. He is the same alim, tall-looking, high-bred Virginia gentleman, his striking features still abowing a high degree of mental activity. He has that characteristic which Napoleon I. considered the mark of intellectual neaperfection—a prominent near. His eye is been and gentle, and reflects the aximal viger which is undiminished by age.
